Let me tell you why I believe so strongly in CSIdentity. Both my wife and I have had our identity stolen, once by someone stealing personal data from an educational institution and twice via a consumer business. Identity thieves made off with our personal and credit card information and made charges to a card. We did our best to monitor the situation ourselves, but then we found CSIdentity.

CSIdentity stood above the competition, and does more than we ever could do to restore and protect our identity. CSIdentity's 24/7 support and 360 degrees of defense sealed the deal. We covered our whole family, including the kids. Now, I want you and your loved ones to have the same identity theft protection; plus, your friends, neighbors and co-workers. You have insurance and/or an alarm for your home and your car. Your identity deserves protection, too.

We are serious about protecting
our most valuable asset.
You.

Beyond credit monitoring, it's multiple layers of digital self defense.

On average, consumers spend less than 10 hours restoring their identity when a crime is discovered within 30 days – as opposed to 300 hours when it goes undetected for up to 24 months. CSIdentity ProtectorSM lets you take a proactive stance against identity theft with 360 degrees of superior defense and the most timely response. While other companies typically only offer credit monitoring – which only detects 18 percent of identity theft – CSIdentity ProtectorSM gives you multiple layers of both credit and non-credit related identity theft protection.

CSIdentity ProtectorSM accesses credit reports, court and criminal records, public records and non-credit loans to provide you with online reports, alerts and ongoing monitoring of fraudulent activity associated with your name, address, Social Security number and date of birth. Plus, our CyberAgentSM technology scours Internet Web pages, chat rooms, and bulletin boards to detect criminal selling or trading of your personal information online. You're also insured up to $25,000 with identity theft insurance. If you become a victim of identity theft or believe theft has occurred, our staff of Identity Theft Restoration specialists are available for personal assistance and support.
